

VIRGINIA IS FOR LOVERS

Plan your photography/video needs:

Review your Marketing Plan – What locations/events are your priorities?

How will you use these images? – Publications, web sites and media/press releases? Videos for presentations, YouTube, trade show booth, social media?

Pull images you like from publications as reference.

Bring your own talent/models. These can be people you know. Any time you have faces in your photos you need a signed release from that person.

Hire a professional photographer

Do your own Photo-Scout:

To help plan your photo shoot, take some photos of your community and events. Print them out and review - everything looks very different in a photo. Look for best time of day - where is the sun, is there a dark shadow, look for trash, leaves, litter, ugly mail or paper boxes, untidy shop windows, closed sign on the door. Talk with shop owners for downtown images – you want active images showing shoppers, store owners, store fronts, night shots with lights on, “open” signs and shoppers/diners.

TIP: Your hometown hosts are a good resource for talent/models

Develop a photo/video shot list:

What locations do you want photographed. Prioritize your list. You may not be able to afford as many as you want.

Time of day for each location –

The light is best early morning and late afternoon (golden hour). Unless you are photographing inside or photographing an event or festival that has set hours, do not plan to shoot mid-day.

Talent/models –

How many people do you want in each shot, ages, and ethnicity? Even when photographing an event it is best to have talent with you that you can control & easily obtain signed releases. Models can be people you know. Pick people who resemble the people you want to attract.

Styling - type of clothing

Always dress slightly up and not too trendy, khakis and collared shirts instead of well-worn jeans and message t-shirts, casual shoes instead of tennis shoes or flip flops (except for sporting events or beach photos), no skimpy bathing suits or low cut blouses, no logos.

Sports activities – always keep in mind, helmets and proper safety equipment

Seasons – plan ahead for next year

When photographing a location that does not obviously show a season, take a change of clothes for talent, or add sweaters or jackets.

The value of talent in your images.

Above photos were taken at the same event by the same photographer. The photo on the right, with talent the photographer could direct, is a much stronger image. It draws the viewers' eye and communicates quickly that this couple is enjoying their day at a wine festival. All the caption really needs to tell the viewer is the location of this wine festival.

VIRGINIA IS FOR LOVERS

Legal Stuff:

Develop terms & conditions of usage rights before talking with photographer: Include usage rights for your community/organization, the site, VTC and other marketing partners.

Develop model release: Sample attached.

Minors (under age 18): Model release must be signed by a parent, not grandparent, aunt or uncle, or neighbor.

Events/Festivals – Work with your community planners to have photo release language on tickets, or registration forms, on websites promoting an event. Any time you have faces in your photos you need a signed release from that person.

Example Blanket Release:

I understand that I may be videotaped, audio recorded, and/or photographed during this event and that (community and VTC) may use this media for any and all purposes without compensation of any kind to me and without further notice to me or permission from me.

Image requirements:

The ideal photo (usually done by photographers) needs to be at least 3000X 3750 pixels or an 11 X 17 at 300 dpi (dots per inch); RGB color and saved in a TIFF format or a JPEG with a 5:1 compression (basically a 20M+ photograph that saves to 4M when compressed.)

The realistic photo is a 8 X 12 at 300 dpi; RGB color and saved as a TIFF or JPEG.

Website only photo is 4 X 6 at 72 dpi; RGB color and saved as a JPEG.

Unacceptable photography is anything lifted off a website; scanned from a previous printed image in a magazine; or does not have permission for usage. Color photography is preferred.

All high quality images can be reduced down to fit any purpose, so the higher resolution the original image, the more uses it may have.

Video Requirements:

The ideal video (usually done by photographers/videographers) needs to be at least 1920 X 1080p (16:9) [high definition video]. The video codec should be H.264 or MPEG-4 (please no intermediate or apply-only formats). The preferred format is .mov. 4K or 6K resolution video is even better!

TIP: Ask your photographer to provide both horizontal and vertical images of same scene.
Ask your photographer to back up a few steps and give you plenty of extra background for cropping purposes (see below)

VIRGINIA IS FOR LOVERS

Put it in writing for a photographer to price: Sample of a creative brief attached.

This helps you and the photographer know exactly what is asked of them. If the price is more than you expected, ask the photographer where you could save money.

Hire a professional photographer!

Ask for referrals and check photographers' websites to review their work.

Develop a naming system and catalog/filing system for your images:

Write photo captions to accompany images when sent to media and apply metadata. Obtain and file signed releases for property and talent. Include photographers name in credits. Samples attached.

TIP: Use the nearest post office address as the location of your photo to maintain consistent location cataloging.

Share your images with your local business owner(s) and VTC
